Carmel Pine Cone

SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1926. CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, CALIFORNIA Vol. XII; No. 5.

On the Boards

A considerable number of Carmelites journeyed to San Francisco this week for the sole and only purpose of seeing Frank Sheridan in "Twelve Miles Out," William Anthony Maguire's booze play, which opened at the Alcazar on Monday night.

The character which Sheridan plays was written for him and he was to go on in the original New York production, but when he came to Carmel that was all off, and Frank said he was through with acting. Perhaps he was through in New York, but not in California, for when Henry Duffy decided to present "Twelve Miles Out," he made the wires hot in his efforts to get Sheridan's name on the dotted line to play Michael McCue, bullying hijacker. Big, good-natured Frank fell for it.

There's no telling how many weeks the play will run, but Sheridan and Dale Winter ought to pack the house for some time.

CHANGE SCHEDULE OF ARTS AND CRAFTS PRODUCTIONS

The Arts and Crafts Theatre will present "In His Arms" by Lynn Starling, on March 26 and 27, in place of "Children of the Moon," which will be produced later in the season. "In His Arms" is a most sophisticated comedy of the ultra modern type, full of bubbling and crackling lines. Margaret Lawrence was the featured player in the New York production which was one of the successes of the season of 1925-1926.

By great good fortune, Mr. Ball found it unexpectedly possible to obtain rights of production at this time, and made the change in his announced schedule. Rehearsals have begun and the cast will show several new faces amongst the players.

THE CITY ELECTION

Registration for the Carmel Municipal election closes on Saturday, March 13. About 300 citizens have yet to register. Do it now.

For this election the city trustees have designated two precincts. Precinct A takes in all the residents residing north of the center line of Ocean avenue, and the polling place will be in C. O. Goold's office.

Precinct B voters are all those residing south of the center line of Ocean avenue, and the polling place will be in P. J. Denny's auto salesroom.

OUTDOOR PRODUCTIONS

Garnet Holme, well-known theatrical producer, specializing in outdoor productions, was here over the last week end. On Sunday afternoon, May 23, he puts on the annual Mt. Tamalpais play, "Rip Van Winkle."

Holme is director of National Park amusements, and following the foregoing production he has made plans for production of an outdoor play at The Pinnacles National Park on May 29, 30 and 31.

An afternoon of cards will be given at the residence of Mrs. Mary May, Ninth and Camino Real. The affair which takes place next Friday, is for the benefit of Unity Hall.

Who Will Win?

Bedlam broke loose in Carmel Woods last Sunday afternoon when Col. Dutton's Eagles won their first game of the Hooper cup series, defeating Joseph Hooper's Hawks 5 to 3, thanks to a three bagger poled out by Norma Pecchetti. The Eagles are still in the basement position, but they promise to soar from now on. The Owls, captained by Fred Bechdolt, pasted an 8 to 1 defeat on Yates' Meadow Larks, and are now on top.

Each team has now played four games. The league standing is:

	Games	W	L	Pct.
Owls	4	3	1	.750
Larks	4	2	2	.500
Hawks	4	2	2	.500
Eagles	4	1	3	.225

Tomorrow's games begin at 1:30.

GREENWOOD REVIEW

Aline Barrett Greenwood will give her next monthly talk in Carmel on next Wednesday afternon, at 3:00 o'clock at Pine Inn. Plays, books, music and politics, as related to our own and foreign nations will be discussed in Miss Greenwood's own inimitable manner, by which "she tips each idea with the little barb that makes it stick" as stated in a recent newspaper review.

Seldom has Carmel welcomed so wholeheartedly a speaker to its midst, and the increasing attendance at each of the Greenwood lectures testifies to the enthusiasm with which each of her audiences is fired.

Her manner of speech has been likened to that of Minnie Maddern Fiske, and her review of recent stage productions in New York is a monthly feature of unvarying interest. There will be a resume of the political situation which will be viewed from all angles in an oral analysis based upon information gathered from authoritative sources.

Books to be mentioned in this review will include "A Chinese Mirror" by Ayscough, "The Plumed Serpent" by D. H. Lawrence, "Mary Glenn" by Millin, and "Kabuki" by Kincaid.

Biography will be covered by "Lincoln" by Sandburg, "Benito Mussolini," Sarfatti, and "Renoir," Vollard.

These talks are given under the auspices of the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts and in immediate charge of Miss Alice Seckels.

WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN DEAD

Ernest K. Blood, a pioneer Carmelite, who had been ill for several weeks, passed away last Tuesday morning at his home in north Carmel. Years ago, before he went to Bakersfield, he conducted a grocery store on Ocean avenue, which afterwards became Leidig Bros. Inc.

Four years ago he returned to Carmel and established the store in the Parkes Building on Dolores street.

Deceased was a native of Michigan and about 70 years of age.

In addition to the property he owned here, Mr. Blood had considerable property in and near Bakersfield.

A large number of Carmel friends attended the funeral services, which were held Wednesday afternoon at the Freeman parlors. Rev. Fred Sheldon officiated. Interment was in El Cemeterio Encinal, in Monterey.

To Confer Degrees

Carmel will be highly honored this month when the Scottish Rite bodies of San Jose asemble here, through the efforts of the Carmel Masonic Club, for the conferring of the fourth to eighteenth degrees of the lodge of perfection and chapter of rose croix.

Fifty of the members will make the journey from San Jose and other sections of Santa Clara county to take part in the ceremonies, and will bring a large amount of paraphernalia. The ceremonies are scheduled to be held on Saturday and Sunday, March 20 and 21, in the Theatre of the Golden Bough.

Pine Inn has been selected as the headquarters of the lodge. The arrangements for the affair were concluded last Wednesday by Paul F. Clark of San Jose, Robert Rankin of Los Altos, and Grant Wills of Carmel.

All Scottish Rite Masons, regardless of where their memberships may be, are eligible to take these degrees. Grant Wills, who is general chairman of the committee will be glad to furnish any information.

This will be the most important Masonic event that has ever taken place in Monterey county. Mr. Clark states that the Golden Bough is ideal for the purposes intended.

In addition to the Masons themselves the families of the members will be at Pine Inn in large number.

CARMELITES INJURED

Driving along the Carmel Valley road, south of the upper Hatton ranch, about 7 o'clock last Sunday evening, Ted Moore of San Jose and Mrs. Hilda Argo-Pullen and Mrs. Marion Boke-Todd were all severely injured when their light roadster skidded in the gravel and overturned, pinning them under the car. Passing motorists rescued them and they were taken to a Monterey hospital.

WELL KNOWN MUSICIAN PASSES

Robert Tolmie, brother of Miss Blanche Tolmie and Mrs. Olivia Warfield, and uncle of George W. Warfield, passed away in Piedmont last Sunday.

Mr. Tolmie was one of the best known musicians in the West, particularly in the bay cities and on the Monterey Peninsula. He asquired his musical education in Europe. He was here only a few weeks ago. He was unmarried.

City Fathers

In an opinion submitted to the board of trustees at last Monday night's meeting by City Attorney Argyll Campbell, Miss Alice E. Knight's claim for damages as the result of injuries sustained by stepping into a depression near a fire hydrant, was rejected. It was shown that the city was in no way liable.

Miss Ona Lassen of the San Carlos beauty shop was granted permission to erect a busines sign near her place of business.

A letter from Postal Inspector R. W. Madden was read, setting for the innumerable requirements for the inauguration of the mail carrier system, many of which this city is unable to comply with. Thus, for some time at least, Carmel will have no such service. Notwithstanding this, the city attorney was directed to prepare a ordinance putting the house-numbering resolution putting the house-numbering purpose of facilitating the delivery of telegrams, special delivery letters and merchandise, and to assist strangers in locating the cottages.

By a vote of three to two it was decided not to send out sample ballots for next month's municipal election. In the election notice prepared by the city attorney this action wac recommended to save expense. Trustee Helen W. Parkes and J. B. Dennis voted "no."

Plans and specifications for the concrete work on Dolores street and Seventh avenue were submitted to the board by the city engineer. Instead of at once adopting the report, as has heretofore been the custom, the board set Wednesday evening as the time for discussion and inspection of the plans.

Reeve Conover, civil engineer, presented a map of Tract No. 2 of the Hatton Fields property, showing the grades of the new section and its conformity with Carmel streets. It was accepted by the board, having previously been approved by the city planning commission.

Request of the Hatton Fields owners to construct an 18-foot disintegrated granite road on Ocean avenue from Carpenter street to the east boundary line of the city was granted. Not, however, before a vigorous argument had been indulged in by Trustees Dennis and Goold and Engineer Conover. The resolution authorizing the construction of the road will contain a provision that the Hatton Fields people will maintain the thoroughfare for two years. Trustees Dennis and Larouette voted against the proposition.

At Wednesday night's special meeting of the board a resolution of intention to concrete two blocks of Dolores street and one block of Seventh avenue was adopted, the plans and specifications being approved.

Concerning the house-numbering, it was decided to have a solicitor call on the various property owners to take orders for numbers. It is anticipated that in this way practically every house will eventually be numbered.

The widening of the roadway on San Carlos avenue came up for discussion, and at the suggestion of Mayor Kibbler a committee of trustees and citizens will go before the Supervisors on Friday, March 19, to urge the improvement at the county's expense.

SESQUICENTENNIAL HISTORY SKETCHES

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence will be observed by the Sesquicentennial International Exposition, which opens at Philadelphia, June 1, 1926.

ROBERT MORRIS, FINANCIER

Not "burning for independence," like Samuel Adams, but a man of soberer judgment, cooler reason and equal love of freedom from tyranny, Robert Morris, "Financier of the Revolution," absented himself from his seat in Congress on July 4, 1776, when the Declaration of Independence was submitted for approval.

Bob Morris (as he often signed himself) was a signer of the famous document, the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of which will be celebrated by the Sesquicentennial International Exposition in Philadelphia this year, but he did not affix his name until August 2, when the engrossed Declaration was laid on the table to be signed.

For a long time he believed that the colonies were not yet ready for independence, but his final signature was not inconsistent with his former hesitation, for much had happened in the brief month between the two dates. Such a signature as his leaves little doubt of his sincerity—large, clear, steady and devoid of entangling flourish in its forthright march across the page.

Again and again did Robert Morris, with the gifts of a natural-born financier, come to the rescue of his country when money was the prime requisite of the moment. On his personal credit he borrowed a sufficient sum to enable Washington to finish his voctory over the Hessians at Trenton, to be followed by his success at Princeton.

As a statesman he discharged his duties in a distinguished manner: three times a member of Congress; leader of the Pennsylvania delegation which signed the "Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union between the States"; Superintendent of Finance; delegate to the Constitutional Convention, and first Senator from Pennsylvania to the First Congress of the United States under the Constitution.

A statue recently has been placed on the steps of the Custom House in Philadelphia. A tall figure bears in his hand a manuscript which represents the subscription list of Colonial business men who provided Washington's army with sufficient funds to gain the victory at Yorktown. The statue is as yet unveiled, but it bears the inscription: "Robert Morris, Patriot, Statesman& Financier."

CARMEL GIRL SCOUTS TO ENTERTAIN

The friends of Scouting for girls are cordially invited by the Girl Scout Advisory Council of Carmel to attend a gathering at Arts and Crafts Hall this afternoon, at 3:30.

Miss Vaal Stark of Palo Alto, regional director for the Pacific Coast states, Miss Frances King, leader of the Brownie Pack of Palo Alto, and Miss Norma Judd of Palo Alto, who is a Golden Eaglet Scout, having won the highest honors conferred by the National Girl Scout organization, will be the guests of honor, and Miss Stark will have charge of the investiture of badges won by Carmel scouts.

Miss King, or "Brown Owl" as she is better known in scout circles, will present pins to our own Brownie Pack, who are the eighteen little growing-up-to-be girl scouts of Carmel.

After the investiture ceremonies, a moving picture of Girl Scout life at Camp Chaparral taken last summer by Mrs. Herbert Hoover, will be shown. Some of our own girl scouts will be shown in this picture.

After the ceremonies the scouts will serve light refreshments and welcome their friends.

WHISKERS NO IMPEDIMENT

"Rem," who is probably the best dressed man in Carmel, has received the following praise in the San Francisco Chronicle for his picture, which is now on exhibition at the Bohemian Club:

"A newcomer among the Bohemian Club artists, Ira Remsen, will probably create a bit of a sensation with his esoteric "Leo," a strangely haunting a beautiful canvas of a reclining woman in black."

At present Rem is at work on a large polo picture for which he has been making studies of the men and ponies in action during the past three weeks, besides making four oil paintings of internationally famous polo ponies—"Peggy," "Gyo," and "Winniewinkle," from George Gorden Moore's stables, and "The Lark," belonging in Mr. Boesicke of Santa Barbara.

Rem says his beard does not interfere with his painting, and that there is a lot more in the Samson and Delila story than appears on the surface.

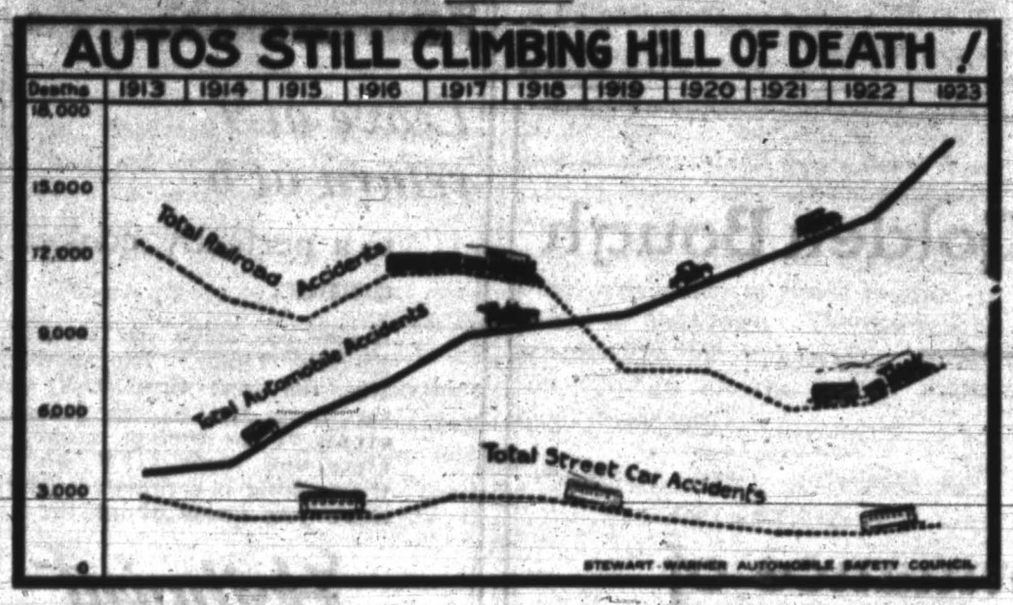
AUTO TRAGEDIES INCREASE AS OTHER TRAVEL IS MADE SAFER



WHILE railroad tragedies and street car accidents in the United States have gradually been diminishing in the last ten years, the annual toll exacted by automobile casualties is steadily mounting, says the Stewart-Warner Safety Council for the prevention of automobile accidents. Railroad accidents have been cut more than one-third, or from 12,520 in 1913 to 8,078 in 1923, the latest government figures available. Street car fatalities also have been cut down one-third or from 3,080 in 1913 to 2,006 ten years later.

Automobile deaths, on the other hand, have increased over five-fold. Against the 3,822 deaths in 1913 we have 16,452 in 1923, and the score is growing each year.

Care, more care and still more care, is the solution of this national problem. The pedestrian must be always on the alert and as spry as a kangaroo, if he is to keep out of harm's way, and the driver for his part must never relax his vigilance for a moment when human lives are at his mercy.

HELP THE OTHER FELLOW

THERE is an old aphorism with which all are familiar: Live and Let Live. Its proper meaning embodies a quiescent sort of benevolence, in that it implies a purpose to refrain from actual injury to others, and to leave them to work out their own material salvation without active hindrance or undue interference.

The old philosophy upon which the motto is based was a long step forward as compared with the still older doctrine of the right of might, current when selfishness was a virtue; and when every man carried a club and took what he wanted—if he could. Indeed, it was the expression of a lofty ideal, as ideals were then conceived.

But the world has moved still further forward. The motto no longer bespeaks the highest conception of human relationship. Passive and inert benevolence no longer fills the measure of recognized obligation. Thre must be an active and practical beneficence, which is aptly expressed in the caption hereto.

In other words, our proper duty to our fellow men requires something more from us than mere well wishing. It calls for action. It is not negative; it is positive. The kindly feeling must be translated into the kindly act. Instead of merely letting live, we should truly and practically HELP LIVE.

TOO MUCH BUSINESS, NOT GOOD BUSINESS

IF a writer on present-day industrial economics is right, the next few decades will be marked, in the United States, by an amazing amount of self-study by individual cities, towns, and even villages. He forsees "intensive study undertaken by every municipality to determine what can best be manufactured in that place." Within limits he is probably right, but there will be many who will honestly hope that the limits will not be too widely extended, and who will believe in all seriousness that an occasional municipality without manufactures has its place in the scheme of things for a well-balanced nation.

"Business first" may be a good slogan, but "business all the time" and "business everywhere" might weaken enthusiasm for desirable industry by over-emphasizing it. One is reminded that since somebody gave current meaning to the term "business efficiency" about 2,000 books on the subject have been written and printed in English!

GREAT PIANO FESTIVAL

Popular prices will prevail at the mammoth Piano Festival to be held in the Civic Auditorium, San Francisco, on Monday night, March 29, so that none need deny themselves the happy experience of seeing and hearing twenty-four of the leading concert pianists in the bay region playing simultaneously at fourteen Grand pianos under the baton of Alfred Hertz.

Many audiences are aware of the great beauty obtained through a two-piano ensemble and when this is multiplied by seven pair the thrilling effect will be apparent. Germaine Schnitzer, Harold Bauer and Josef Lhevinne, all of whom have been recent visitors in San Francisco and who were participants on two occasions when piano festivals were given in New York under the direction of Walter Damrosch, expressed to Miss Alice Seckels their delight that the pianists here would enjoy the humor and also beauty of playing en masse.

This will show the musicianship of San Francisco pianists and the great genius of Alfred Hertz in holding all forces together in an harmonious ensemble of great finesse. The following pianists will participate: Phyllida Ashley, Lincoln Batchelder, Allan Bier, Ada Clement, Pierre Douillet, Henrik Gjerdrum, Charles Hart, Margo Hughes, George Kruger, Elsie Cook Laraia, John C. Manning, Mrs. Hugo Mansfeldt, Benjamin Moore, George Stuart McManus, Joan Baldwin O'Donnell, Max Pons, Alma Helen Rother, Elizabeth Simpson, Douglas Bacon Soule, Noah Steinberg, Marian de Guerre Steward, Cecil Hollis Stone, Margaret Tilly and Raymond White.

ART NOTES

A picture is usually chosen because of its appeal to the individual taste, its harmony in color, its beauty of landscape, the thought it expresses, the story it tells, . . . Nevertheless, careful thought should be given to its fitness for the space where it is to be placed, that it be of the right size; to its color, that it harmonize with the color scheme of the room; also, that it be in sympathy with the type of furniture used.

A picture is sometimes chosen for its harmony and beauty in color, as well as for its appeal to the individual taste; then the room is "built around the picture," carrying out for the color scheme the colors in the picture.

It is better to have one really "good" picture in a room than several of mediocre quality. This does not mean that we may not possess and enjoy more than one good picture. The Japanese have solved this problem in a very happy manner. They hang one picture of the right size in the right place, and after having enjoyed that for some time change it for another, and then another; not always, however, selecting the same wall space.

A "good" picture need not necessarily be an expensive one. Many contemporary etchers, lithographers and even painters sell their work, which is of real excellence, for less than $25. One may choose also a good photographic view of some beautiful bit of landscape or a good reproduction of some famous painting. However, there is special interest in original contemporary work.

ART IS NOT HIGHBROW

It is a good thing for our country that more and more attention is being given to matters coming under the head of "art." Art is a name which too many people are inclined to associate with exclusiveness or "high brow" pretensios. Only in our own country, however, may this be said, for in the European countries it is the rank and file, the everyday man and woman and even the child, who take perhaps the keenest delight and get the most enjoyment out of works designed by their craftsmen. Anything that is beautiful, that is pleasing to the eye or that awakens in us a desire to penetrate into more mysterious and beautiful realms, is good art. The leafless twigs of the elm or the cottonwood, outlined against a wintry sky, present a series of lacelike and wonderful patterns and they also carry a message of life that is to come.

The Creator has made for us a world filled with color and design, carrying limitless possibilities for human enjoyment. The man who brushes them aside in his absorbing quest for material wealth is rejecting the things offered him for the good of his soul.

Artists, so called, are men like the rest of us, but who are more sensitive to impressions which they classify and train until they become masters in expressing them. And it is to them that our country is turning more and more, that we may be led into more profitable and spiritual paths. Exhibitions of important works of art, therefore, form one of the most effective methods of putting the public in touch with the fine things produced by our painters and our sculptors.

ABOUT THAT OPEN LETTER

Carmel, Calif., Mar. 3, 1926.

Mr. Paul J. Denny,
Carmel, Calif.

Dear Sir:

Your open letter of last week published in the Pine Cone, in regard to trading in Carmel missed me a mile, so far as indictment is concerned, because I do trade at home. But I want to touch on a few thoughts that you said nothing about. You may publish them if you wish.

It is NOT a bold statement to make, NOR IS IT UNTRUE, that Carmel is a better place to live in, because of its merchants.

If any one can successfully demonstrate that the above statement is not true, the balance of the argument to come will fall flat. On the other hand, if it is true, then it behooves us to generously support our Carmel merchants, and there can only be two or three objections to this HOME patronage, viz: Are their prices about on an even basis with out sister towns? Is their service such as to demand our serious consideration? Are their stocks fairly complete? And if WE as consumers can answer these last three questions AFFIRMATIVELY, then WE CAN NOT AFFORD to buy outside of Carmel.

In turning these things over in our minds, we must also consider the following salient facts. Our HOME town merchant helps to maintain OUR town, OUR churches, OUR schools, OUR societies, OUR fairs, OUR theatres, OUR charitable institutions, AND HE HAS TO DO THIS AS GENEROUSLY AS HIS BUSINESS WILL ALLOW.

Further, if we spend our dollars in Carmel we have at least an even break to get a glimpse of them as they pass from hand to hand, and these same dollars might accidentally, or on purpose, get back into our own pockets again, with from eight to one hundred per cent profit, or more. (We hope it's more) AND THAT ISN'T A BAD BET, at least it is a matter that we can profitably consider favorably. Let's try trading at home—EVERYBODY. Let us see how it works, and if we like it, we can continue, and if we don't, well!— we can do something else.

Yours truly,
C. A. ANDERSEN.

BROWNE PLAYHOUSE IN L. A.

The Maurice Browne Theatre Association has been formed in Los Angeles. Two groups make up the organization—sponsors and players.

Browne and his wife, Ellen Van Volkenburg, are accredited with being the pioneers in the movement to establish the non-commercial theatre, their outstanding work having been accomplished in the Chicago Little Theatre, the Seattle Cornish School and in the Golden Bough here.

This evening, at the City Club of Los Angeles, the Brownes will be tendered a dinner.

The opening play in the theatre rented by the sponsors will be "The Princess Who Wouldn't Say Die."

DISTINGUISHED JAPANESE VISITORS

Distinguished guests to spend last week-end in Carmel were Mr. and Mrs. Torao Kawasaki of the Consulate General of Japan at San Francisco. They were house guests of Mrs. Roberta Balfour Thudichum at her studio home. On Sunday evening many friends were invited to meet them and listen to a comprehensive talk on the art and culture of Japan. Mr. Kawasaki is a graduate of Springfield, Mass., and post graduate of both Harvard and Yale, and is eminently fitted thereby to expound these subjects to an American audience. He is continually in demand in the bay cities at club, college and social functions, where his delightful personality and easy flow of language are a perfect vehicle for creating better understanding of the ethical and cultural standards of his race. Three hours were only a small period in which his delighted audience listened to the account of the early influences on Japan from China and India and the gradual growth of art, philosophy and culture towards modern expression.

A group of flower studies in symbolic form was used as demonstration of the simplicity of theme characteristic of Japanese esoteric expression, and his description of the preparation for a guest in a Japanese home was significant and beautiful.

A series of these talks will be given during the year and it is hoped that the Kawasakis will honor the art colony with a visit at Easter, when there will be more opportunity to gather together artists and writers who feel the great need of more illumination on the inner life of Japan, the dreamland of all poets and artists.

Miss Helen Rosenkrans and Miss Eleanor Abercrombie reached Carmel, their future home, from Boulder, Colorado, last Wednesday evening. They have been here several times, and have a wide circle of local friends. On one of their visits they purchased a piece of property on the Point, where they will probably build.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS

Pursuant to resolution duly passed by the Board of Trustees of Sunset School District on February 17th, 1926,

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that said Board of Trustees hereby invite sealed bids or proposals for the purchase of the old Sunset School building and two small outstanding temporary buildings situate on the grounds of said Sunset School, City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Said bids must be delivered to the undersigned clerk of said board at or before eight o'clock p. m., Wednesday, the 10th day of March 1926, at which date and hour said bids will by said board be publicly opened, examined and declared in the new Sunset School building in said city.

To be considered by said board, all proposals must be accompanied by a duly certified check in ten per cent of the amount of the bid, which shall be forfieted to said school district in the event the successful bidder fails or refuses to carry out the terms of his proposal.

Said buildings are to be sold contingent upon the same being removed from said school grounds within 15 days from and after the date of the award of contract.

The whole amount of the proposal made by the successful bidder must be paid to said Board of Trustees prior to the removal of said buildings from said grounds and within ten days from and after said award of contract.

Said Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By order of the Board of Trustees of Sunset School District.

FLORENCE M. SPOEHR,
Clerk of said Board of Trustees.

The sales records show that the coupe found a new class of buyers for itself."

SECLUSION
WITHOUT ISOLATION

The distance from the corner of Ocean Avenue and San Carlos to HATTON FIELDS is 200 feet shorter than the distance from the same corner to the Carmel bathhouse.

The distance from Ocean Avenue and San Carlos to HATTON FIELDS is just equal to the distance from Ocean Avenue to Eleventh Avenue.

Nearly all HATTON FIELDS lots now on sale are nearer to the main corner than many of the closely built up blocks in Carmel.

HATTON FIELDS plots range from one-third acre to three acres. They cannot be subdivided. They are for single family homes. Permanent seclusion is assured the home owner.

Prices of HATTON FIELDS lots per square foot are from one-half to one-fourth the prices of desirable Carmel residence property.

Judge OLDSMOBILE BY ITS FINE PERFORMANCE—NOT BY ITS LOW PRICE

SEDAN $1025 F.O.B. LANSING

Contrast Oldsmobile performance with that of any car you know. Check it for acceleration, for smoothness, power, flexibility, comfort, braking.

Give it the most severe test you can think of. Then you will agree with thousands of others that Oldsmobile performance lifts it far above its price class.
